Park Information Centres

. . . where maps, publications and other information are available for the convenience of visitors, are maintained in all these parks.

Entrance Fees

. . . Entrance to all National Parks is free. Motoring visitors however, are required to obtain a park motor vehicle licence at the entrance. The $2 licence is good in all National Parks for the entire season. (A licence for Waterton Lakes and prairie parks only is available at $1.)

Campgrounds and Trailer Areas

. . . Camping is permitted only in established campgrounds—except by special permit obtained from the nearest Park Warden. Nominal fees are charged for serviced campgrounds where kitchen and washroom facilities are provided.

Other Accommodation

. . . within the Parks is inspected, and maximum daily rates chargeable are approved by the National Parks Service. Rate cards are prominently displayed in each room or cabin. Reservations and information concerning accommodation are not handled by Park Information Centres. An Accommodation Directory, however, is available free on request.

Picnic Areas

. . . are conveniently located adjacent to travelled routes.

Pets

. . . Dogs and cats may accompany a visitor into a park. For the protection of all park animals, however, dogs must be kept on leash.

Fishing Licences

. . . at $2 for the season or $1 for one month are obtainable from Park Information Centres and Park Wardens.

Warden Service

. . . Park Wardens patrol all districts in the parks to protect the forests, the wildlife—and all visitors. The Warden Service is assisted by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in maintaining law and order. Warden Stations may be located on all park maps.

Firearms

. . . are not allowed unless sealed. This is done free of charge at park entrances, the Chief Warden's office, or the Warden Station nearest your point of entry to the park.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBS

and

OVERNIGHT TRAIL CAMPS

For the safety of park visitors, National Parks Regulations require that any person who proposes climbing a mountain, or making a trail trip which requires camping out overnight, shall register full details of the journey with the Superintendent or District Park Warden before leaving, and also upon returning.

REGISTER!

IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

NEVER CLIMB ALONE!

Motor Boats

. . . are only permitted in certain areas under free permit from the nearest Park Warden. All such craft must carry safety equipment required by the Federal Department of Transport.

Campfires

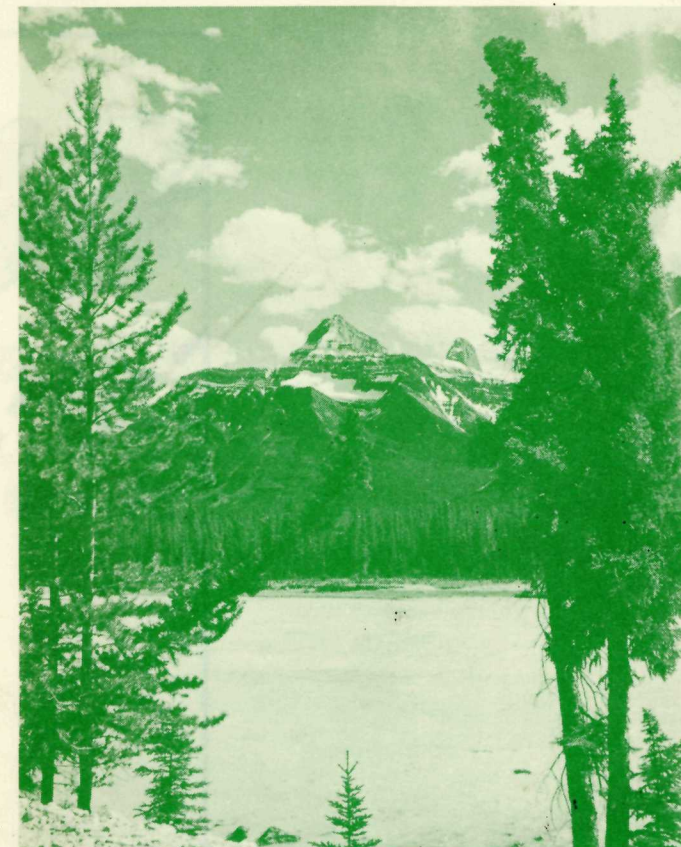

. . . are permitted only in fireplaces or stoves in campgrounds and picnic areas. For travel away from the roads, obtain travel and fire permits from the nearest Park Warden.

Bears can be dangerous

. . . For your protection it has been made illegal to feed or entice bears or other wild animals. Watch wildlife from a safe distance. Do not leave food open in your tent:

Interpretative Services

. . . are available in most of these Parks in summer. Enquire at Park Information Centres about nature trails, conducted nature trips, and evening film showings.

. . . is located at Balsam Lake. There are picnic areas at Mile 5 on the Park Highway and on the summit.

Accommodation

. . . Reservations and information are provided by the Revelstoke Board of Trade at 101 First Street East.

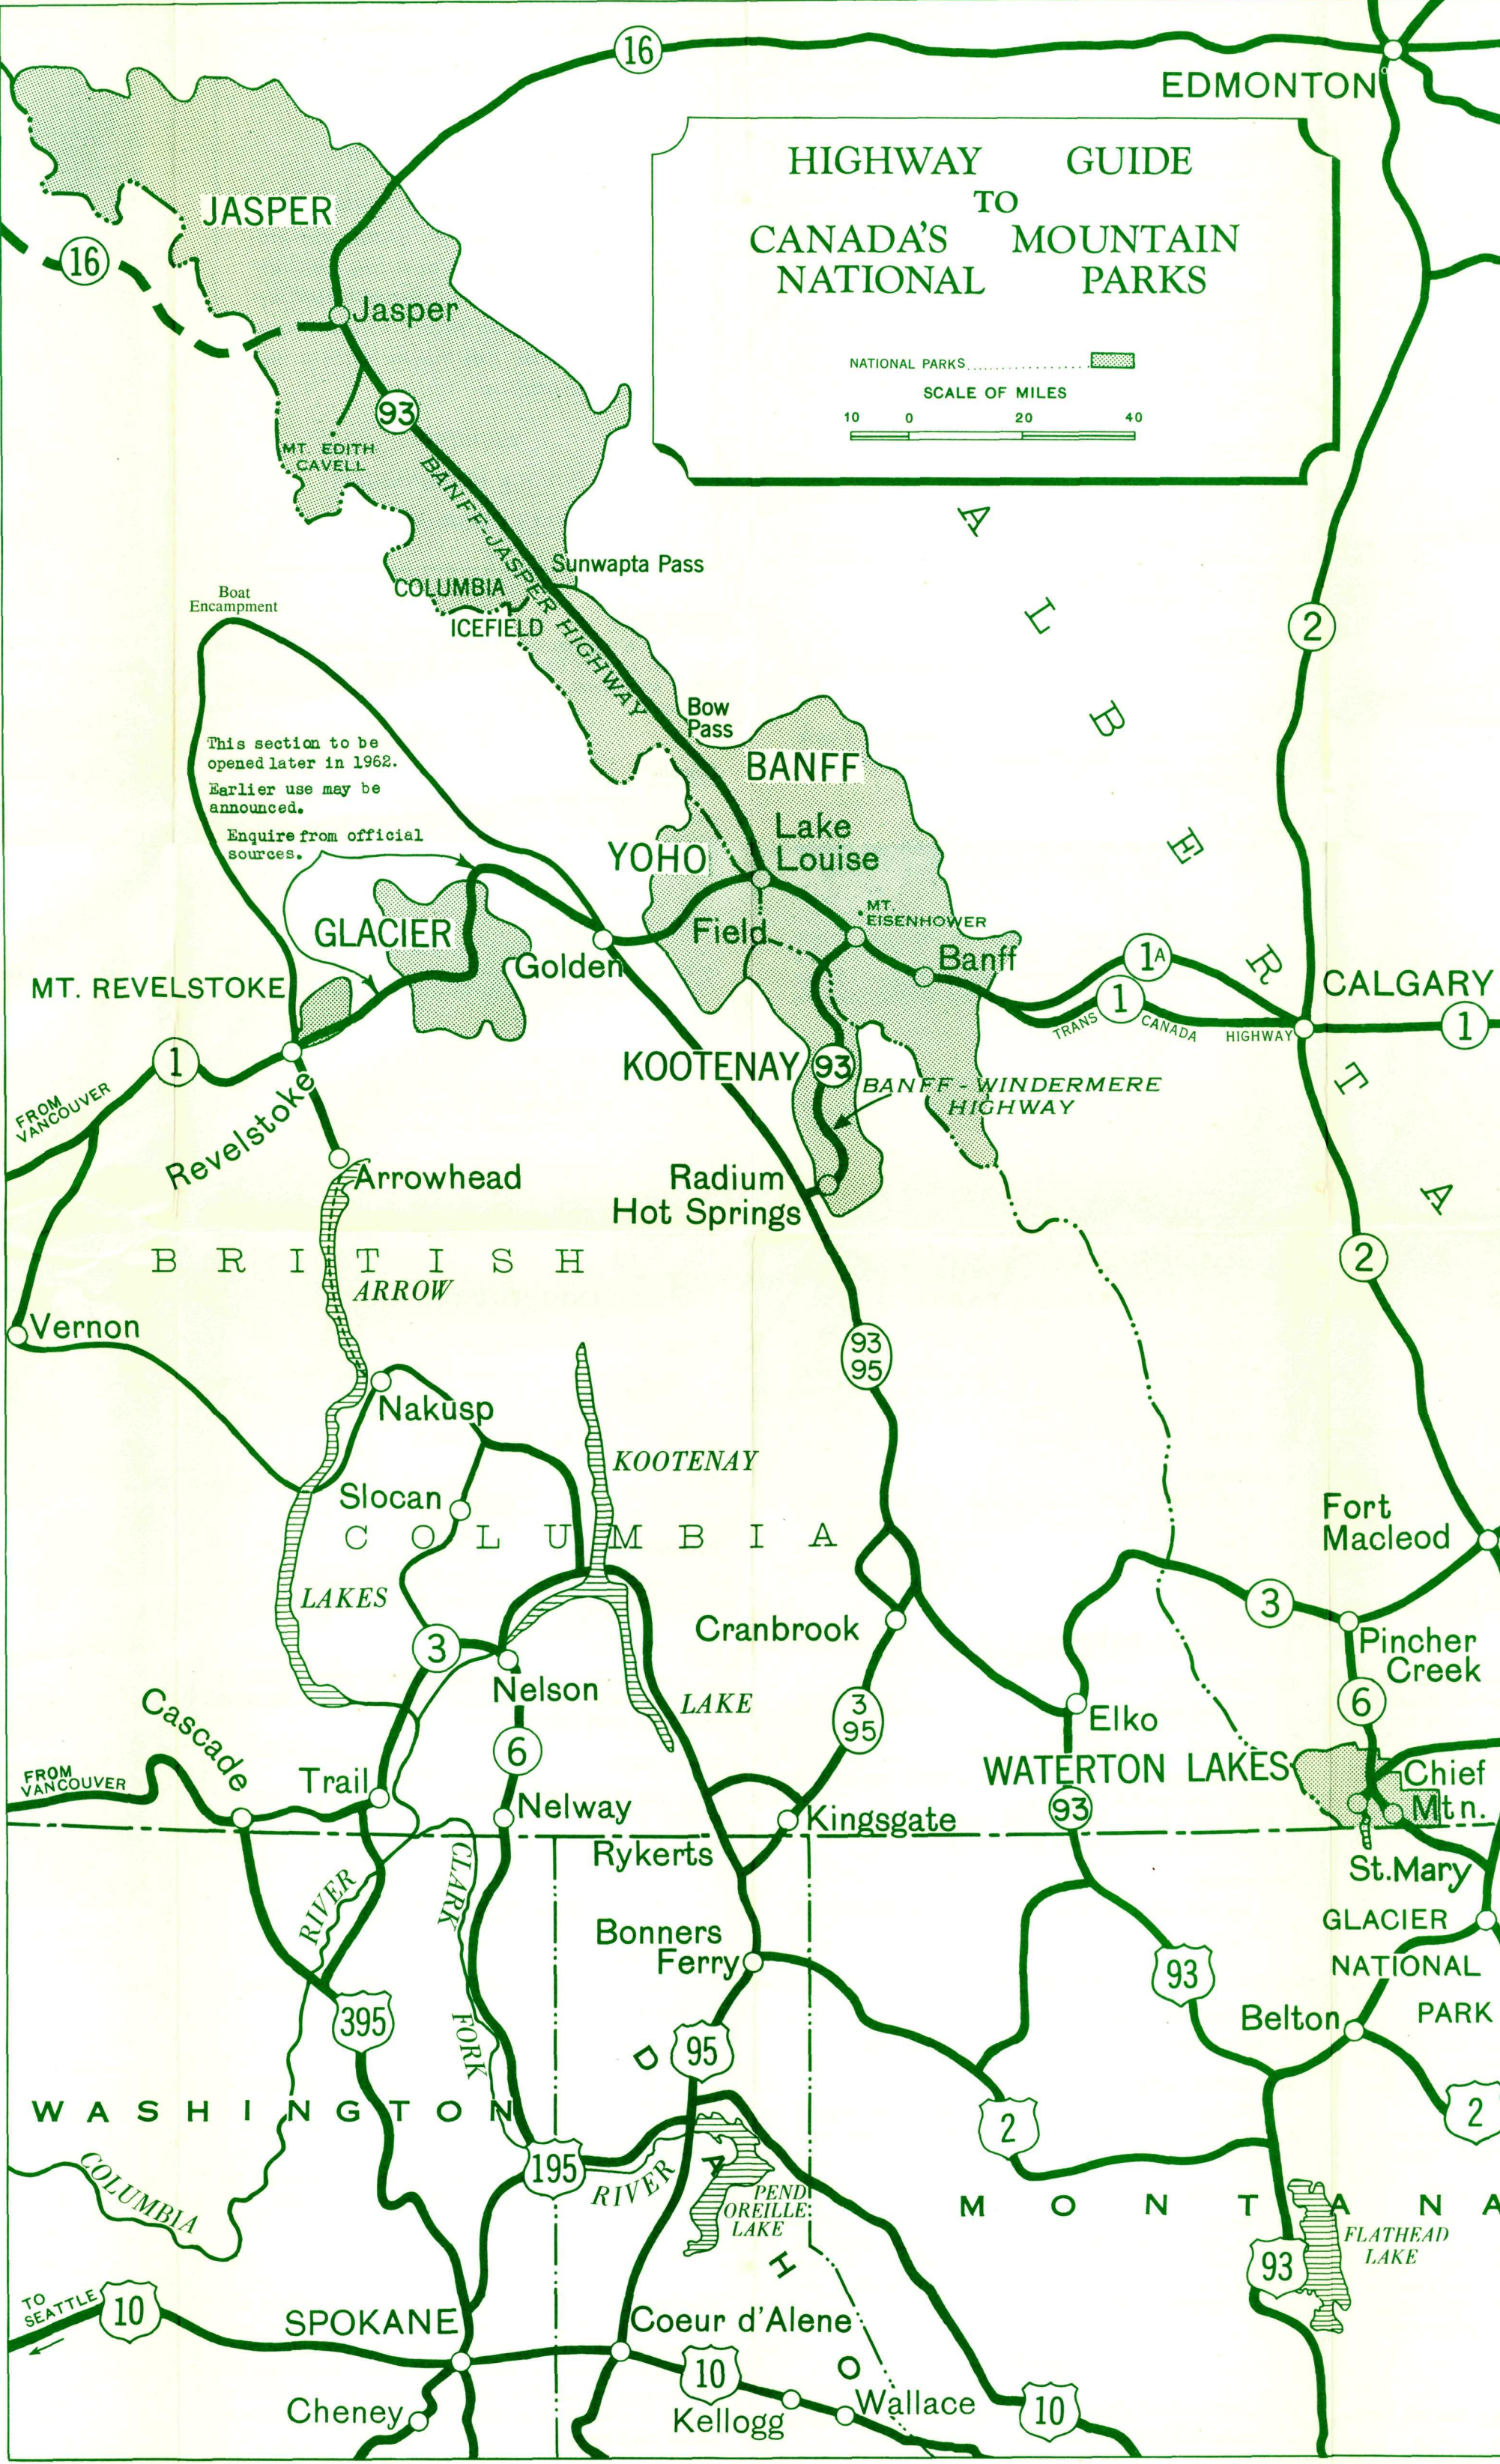

The Trans-Canada Highway is to be opened at an official ceremony in Glacier National Park in the late summer or early autumn of 1962. It is anticipated that, if earlier public travel is considered safe, its limited use between Revelstoke and Golden may be permitted before this ceremony. Such information is available at National Park Information Offices or official travel bureaus.

These grotesque "hoodoos" in Banff National Park are evidence of the power of wind and water erosion.

FIRE IN A PARK CAN CAUSE DAMAGE WHICH CANNOT BE REPAIRED IN A HUNDRED YEARS.

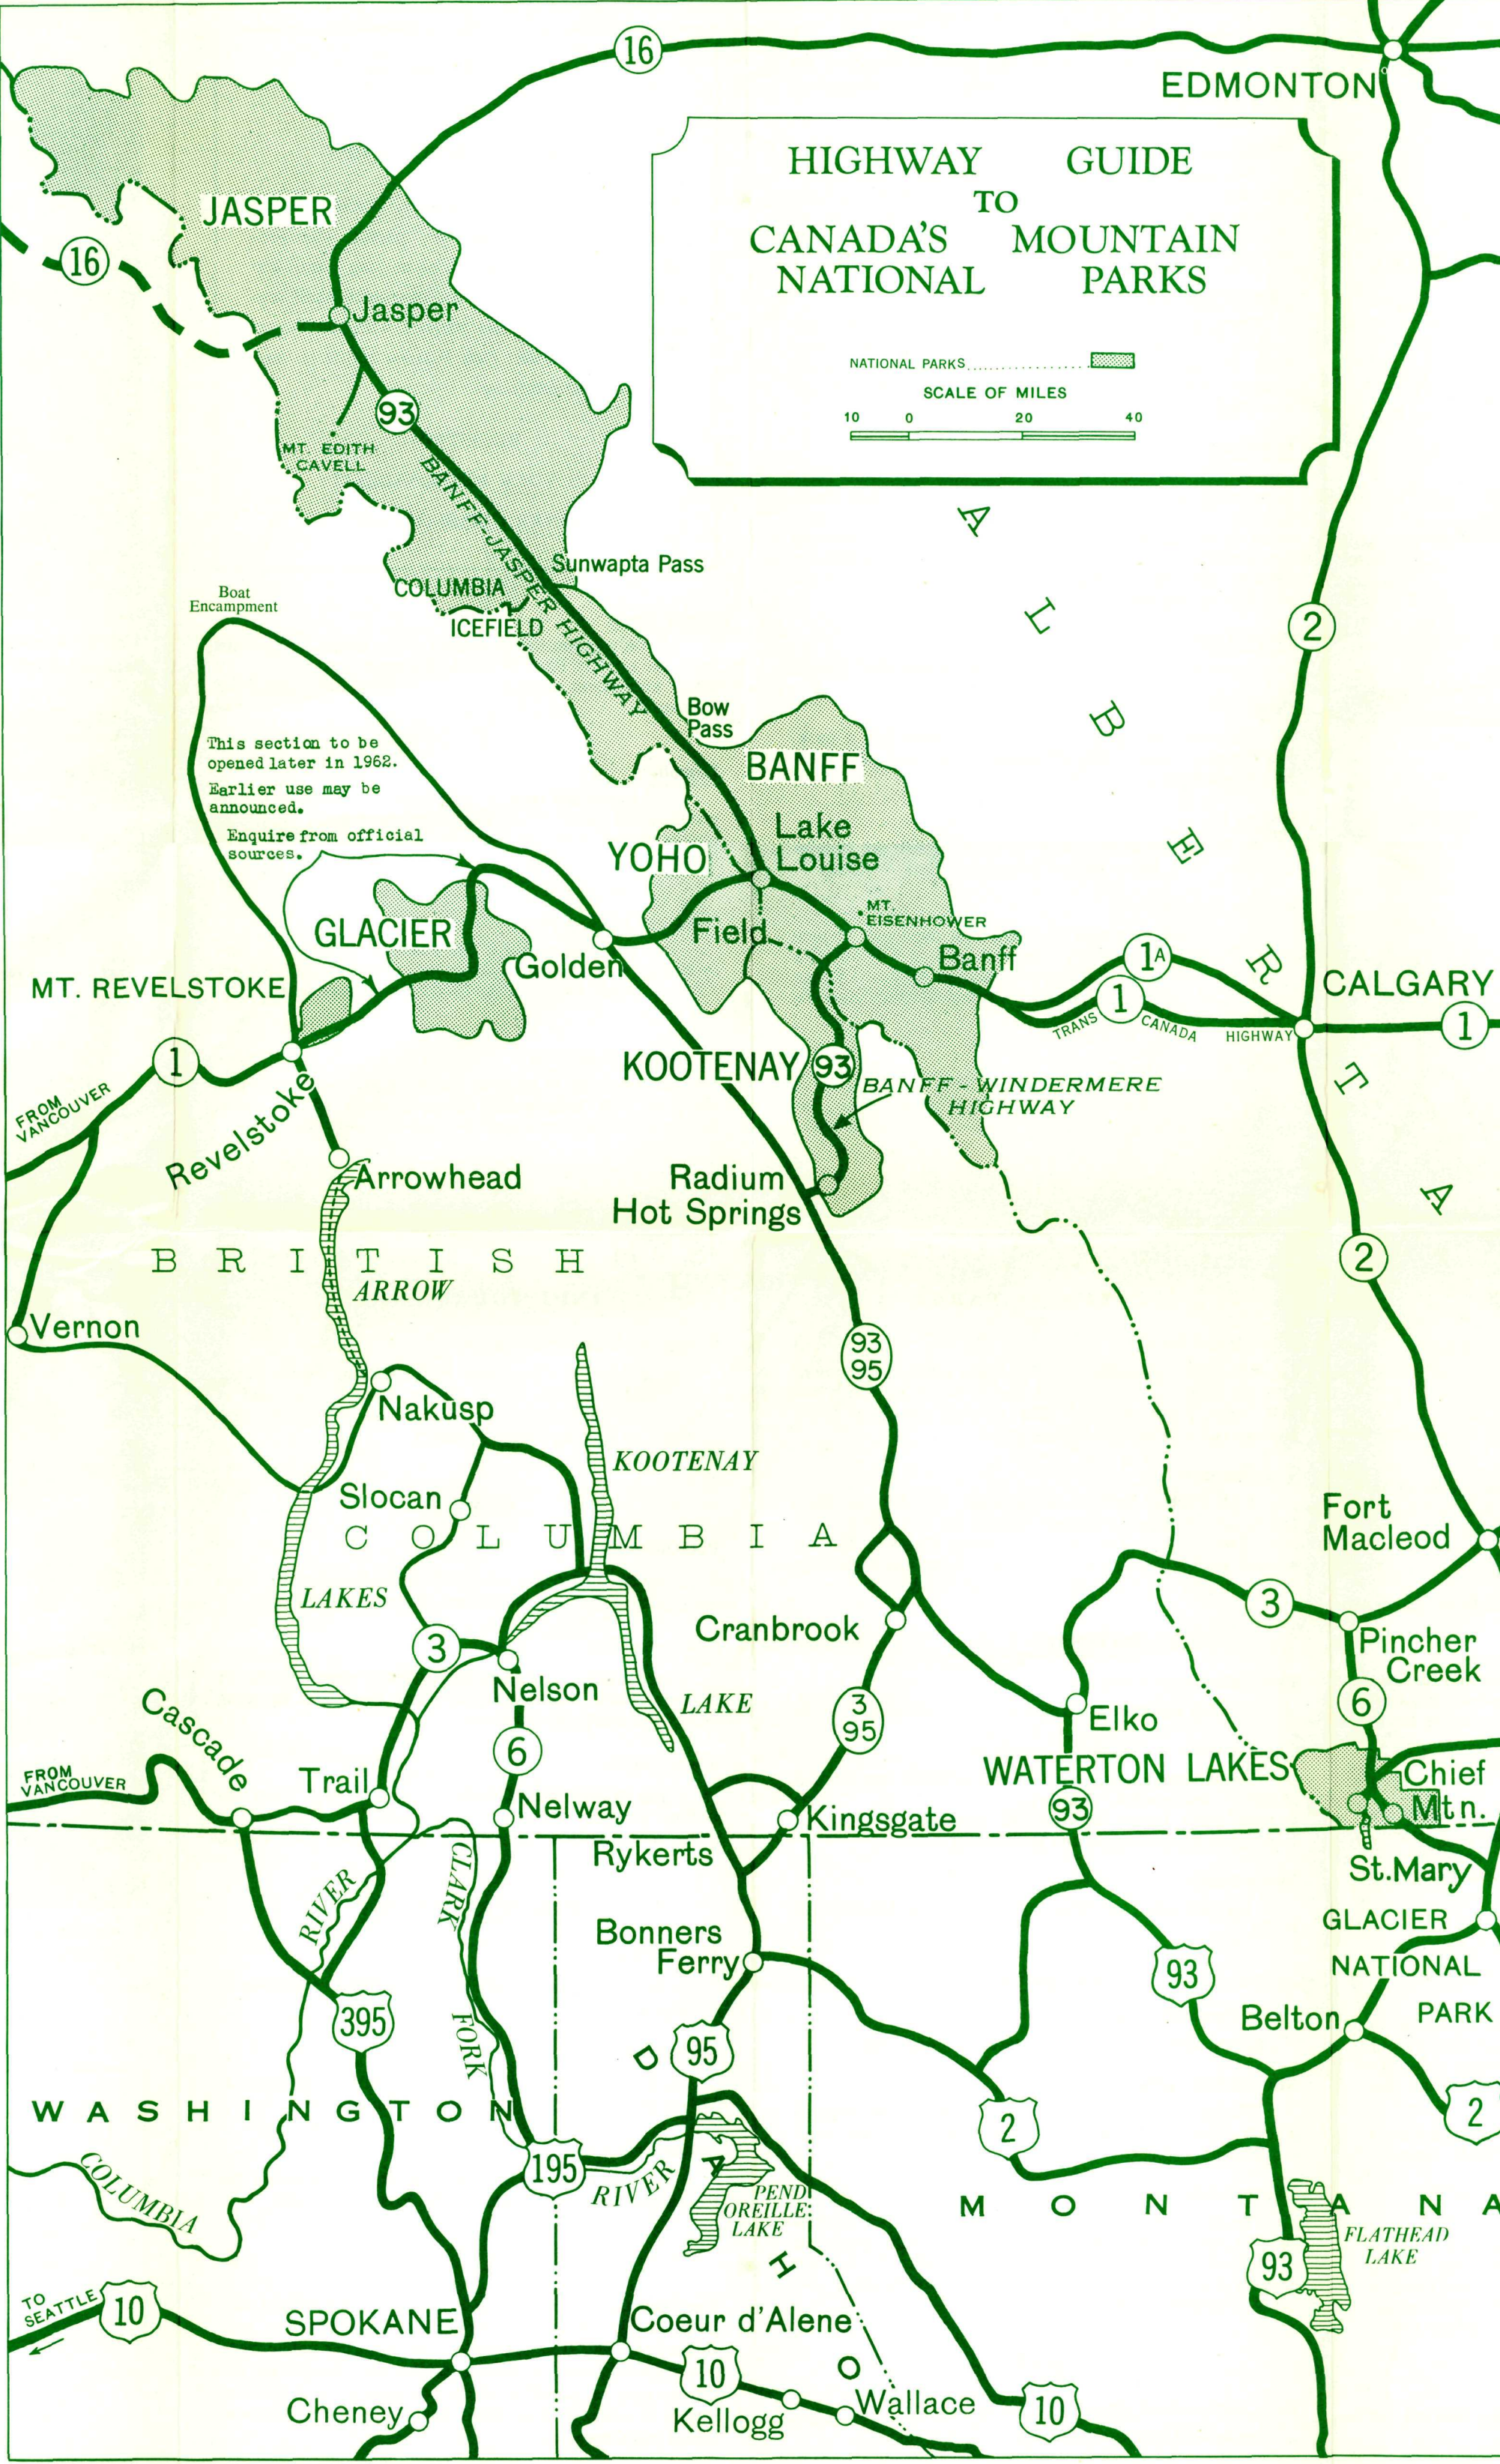

VISITORS OBSERVING ANY UNATTENDED FIRE SHOULD ATTEMPT TO EXTINGUISH IT IF POSSIBLE AND PROMPTLY REPORT IT TO THE NEAREST PARK EMPLOYEE.
